BESSIE BARRISCALE IN FINE PICTURE AT 'UTAH' TODAY

A star of the first magnitude, supported by a six-foot two-inch tall leading man, whose presence, acting, and part are as big as his body, will appear at the Utah theater today, when Bessie Barriscale will be seen in the screen version of Katharine Norris' best seller, "The Heart of Rachel," with Herbert Heyes in the leading male role.

Howard Hickman directed the production, using a bold method which yet included a perfection of detail that presents the charming novel in its strongest form.

The big leading man has a fine role, in which he has handled his somewhat difficult characterization in a way which brings an irresistible appeal. He forms an ideal leading man for the little blonde star, with his physical bigness and imposing, wholesome personality.

Mr. Heyes appears as Dr. Gregory, a physician and surgeon who is something of a genius in his profession, and who is called upon to use his skill in one of the most trying situations that ever occurred upon the silver screen or in real life. The music played by Professor Peart to this picture is worth special praise, and will be en-

Warning Issued To Parents by the Ogden Merchants

Believing that something must be done to remedy the condition to prevent many boys and girls from drifting eventually into lives of crime and degradation, the Merchants of Ogden prepared the following open letter to all fathers and mothers, the juvenile court and police officers and the press:

"To the Fathers and Mothers and Juvenile authorities and police officers of Ogden, Utah:

"Friends: The Merchants of Ogden as an association of business men is deeply concerned in the welfare and morals of the young people of the community and begs leave to bring to you as fathers and mothers and officers of the law, who are commissioned with the duty and responsibility of protecting the public morals, a solemn warning against the practice and habit of many of the boys and girls of the city of wandering about the streets until late at night, unattended by chaperons, and frequenting restaurants and other public places.

"The writer is able to say that on almost any night at any hour until midnight and frequently later, pairs and groups of young boys and girls, sometimes many of them barely in their teens, may be seen unaccompanied by parents or guardians aimlessly drifting about the streets of this city.

"It is the first duty of the parents of these children to instruct them as to the evil which will result from habits of this character and to restrain them from such conduct. It is the duty of the juvenile court, and of the police officers of the city to see that juvenile delinquency is not fostered and produced in this manner.
"If this condition is not corrected many of these young boys and girls will drift into habits of life that will eventually lead them into poverty, degradation and crime.

"We, therefore, again urge all fathers and mothers to see that their children are not among those who are wandering about the streets at night and we strongly urge the judge of the juvenile court and the probation officers and the chief of police and police officers of this city to see to it that the laws relating to juvenile delinquency, which fully covers this situation, be rigidly enforced, and we invite the attention of the press of the city to this situation and the menace to the future welfare of the city which it involves, and ask that warning and notice be given to the public so that it will come to the attention of all the citizens of Ogden.

"Respectfully submitted, Signed,
"By J. S. LEWIS, President." ble: "I have got such good results from Foley Kidney Pills that I can

Insulation Plant Is to Be Erected In This City

Announcement was made in Ogden yesterday by M. Sholl, insulating engineer of this city, that a plant for manufacturing insulating material will be erected in this city soon. The plant, according to the statement will cost $50,000 and the raw materials will be brought from the desert of Nevada, where the deposits are to be found.

The concern will be backed by Salt Lake and Ogden capital. Ogden was chosen for the location, said Mr. Sholl, because of its transportation facilities, affording convenient railroad connections in all directions.

A large factory will be built, it is stated, for the manufacture of the products and will be large enough to afford ample room for storing the completed product. The present offices of the new industry are located at Salt Lake.

"The market for the product is very promising," Mr. Sholl states. "Oil refineries and smelters use thousands of dollars worth of such products every year and the material to be used in the local concern is far superior to anything that has yet been found."

"The material is of a silicious formation, being the fossil of a marine animal. Extensive deposits of this material, which has been analyzed and found to be 99 per cent pure, according to Mr. Sholl, are located about seven miles from Carlin, Nev. The name of the fossil mines is The Great White Way Fossil Deposits.

"The formation of the material is similar to talc or chalk to the naked eye, but an examination with a powerful microscope reveals the fact that the particles of the formation are loosely held together, making radiation extremely difficult, thus, an ideal material for insulation purposes."

Villa and Band of Rebels Are Headed South

EL PASO, Texas, June 17.—Francisco Villa and his rebel command is believed to be heading toward Casas Grandes, 25 miles southwest of Juarez.
Before he attacked Juarez, Villa announced his intention of establishing his base at Casas Grandes and, since he was driven away from the border, it is believed here he will go there, where the grass and water are good and establish a camp for his men who are completely exhausted from the Juarez battle and the pursuit by American cavalry.

General Cabell announced today that every effort had been made to get the news of the American expedition to Americans in the interior of Mexico in order that they might be informed to be on their guard. He expressed the opinion that these in the danger zone will go into the larger towns and said he did not expect a large number of Americans to be killed if Villa starts an anti-American campaign.

Opinion on this part of the border is divided as to what Villa's attitude will be. Many Americans, including those having interests in Mexico, have expressed themselves strongly against the punitive expedition of Sunday night, saying that this would make it impossible for Americans to own and operate property in Mexico for the next ten years without constant danger of being killed. Others, including several who own or are interested in Mexican holdings take the opposite view and say the action of the American government will strengthen Carranza's position and has materially assisted him in handling the situation in the north.

Army officers declared today that the punitive expedition, following the constant sniping into El Paso by Villa sharpshooters, would have a wholesome effect and that the Mexican rebels had been taught a valuable lesson. In answer to the criticism that the expedition would bring down upon Americans in Mexico Villa's wrath, they answered by saying that the expedition was what Americans on the border had been pleading for during the last eight years.

How Villa Escaped.
EL PASO, Texas, June 17.—Irrigated low lands in the bend of the Rio Grande, irrigation ditches and swamps probably prevented the American cavalry troops from overtaking and capturing a large number of Villa's rebel officers and men yesterday following the attack on the Villa camp eight miles from Juarez.

From unofficial reports received at military headquarters today it was shown that Colonel S. R. H. Tompkins' cavalry forces were able to approach to within a short distance of the Villa camp without being discovered. The prisoners captured and brought back to Fort Bliss were probably outposts for this camp and this permitted the Americans to advance through the fields without being discovered as the rebels were eating around their camp fires.

When the Americans opened fire the rebels made little effort to resist, but ran for their horses and galloped away, scattering over the plain like a covey of quail, the American officers said. It was then that the barrier of the irrigated fields and ditches was encountered. The low land lying within the bend of the river is irrigated from the Rio Grande with a series of irrigation ditches. These were bank full of water and it was possible to cross them only at foot bridges or on pontoons thrown across by the engineers. Several of the cavalry horses slipped and fell into the ditches and all were belly-deep in water at different times.

This natural handicap gave the rebels an advantage of 30 minutes and they were enabled to reach the foothills at considerable distance ahead of the American cavalrymen, although the latter had far superior mounts.
The Villa rebels had their horses corraled beyond the irrigated ditches and did not encounter the same difficulty as the Americans.

Catarrah Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach only one way to cure Catarrah Deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy.

HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. Catarrah Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube.
When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing may be destroyed forever. Many cases of Deafness are
